Membership Matters
Year in Review
Membership Matters

Firm Culture
A large firm roundtable was initiated to discuss issues of professional excellence related to firm culture, emerging professionals and workforce development. Strengths and threats to the profession were also discussed.

AIA Repositioning Progress
Virginia is at the forefront of the membership alignment process by assessing the way the state and local components work together in service and support of our members. We were awarded a membership alignment grant, and met regularly this year to discuss opportunities for ongoing collaboration and cooperation.

Emerging Professionals
We focused on the areas where we could add support for emerging leaders from across the state by offering additional networking opportunities, a new emerging professional’s award, as well as implementing graduated dues for newly licensed architects.

Member Recognition
AIA Virginia recognized new members and newly licensed architects in the monthly newsletter. AIA Virginia member’s awards, promotions, and other achievements were celebrated in a bimonthly good news email blast.
